

The short films are as follows (running time 1:06):

MCCOMBIE WAY

In this inspiring short film, we meet a woman who wakes up every day with a sense of purpose and belonging. Never mind that she's 80 years old, she's just finished digging her own road called McCombie Way that joins her farm to the neighboring town. What will this incredible woman do tomorrow?

6 minutes in English. Directed by Nick Higgins.

LES DERNIERS JOURS/THE REMAINING DAYS

An old widower finds a time capsule he had placed in the wall of his house years ago, which includes a letter he wrote in his youth listing all of the things he wanted to do before the end of his life. Better late than never, he sets out to accomplish the tasks that will allow him a peaceful and fulfilling passing. This Canadian short is a humorous take on aging, accomplishment and in the end, freedom.

8 minutes in French with English subtitles. Written and Directed by Simon Olivier Fecteau.

CONTINUUM

This poetic short film from India takes us gently through diverse worlds, creating a continuum of ideas, heart, enlightenment and compassion. This film unfolds beautifully as it follows the energetic path of the larger concept of self and our interconnectedness. In the end, the glory of this world shines forth and the continuum is made clear.

39 minutes in Hindi and English, with English subtitles. Written and Directed by Khushboo Ranka.

MEYERS

When the ordinary becomes institutional, what does it take to break out of the mold? After 30 years together following the same routine day in and day out, Ernest and Edna are cemented into their mundane existence. What happens when Ernest decides it's time for a change? In this quirky short from Switzerland, we are reminded of the importance of waking up our heart connection to those we love and staying engaged with the world around us.

13 minutes, in Swiss German with English subtitles. Written and Directed by Steven Hayes.
